RICK FINES TRIO

L'il Stu was given a kazoo. Playing requiems and waltzes make him glad;
he smiles when he plays anything sad.

WILLIAM DENNETT
1938

Young Tyrone has an old trombone that could slide up and down.
He plays that thing all the time marching about town.

KATHY ELLIS

Antoinette played clarinet in front of her mother's store. She lost her place to little Grace, who practiced a whole lot more.

WASHBOARD HANK

When tiny Kerry plays the flute, she sounds like a canary.
Her father dances in the house; his break-dancing gets quite scary.

BEANPOLE BILLY

Beanpole Billy gets quite silly pounding on the drums; even when he breaks the sticks, he'll pound them with his thumbs

THE SILVER HEARTS

Antoinette, L'il Stu, young Tyrone, and tiny Kerry get together to play. They looked for a drummer, found Billy the thumber and now they make music all day.
